

GOTTMAN METHOD COUPLES THERAPY

LEVEL 2 TRAINING: Assessment, Interventions and Comorbitites

A Research Based Approach

September 16 - 17 and November 4 - 5, 2011

A Project of The Hiebert Institute

The Gottman Level Two Training is a post-degree training program of the Hiebert Institute designed to integrate research-based methods to maximize your competence and inspire transformation.

In this four-day workshop, you'll learn how to:

- Refine your clinical skills
- Internalize and integrate the powerful, research-based Gottman techniques.
- Learn when to use these methods & when couples therapy is contraindicated.
- Learn how to use Gottman Core Assessment & Supplemental Assessments
- Learn more than 50 Gottman Interventions

The video demonstrations will include:

- Presentations by Drs. John and Julie Gottman
- Practice using Assessments and Interventions in groups
- View demonstration films
- Participate in follow-up discussions of DVD presentations with Therapist, J. Graham Thompson, LMFT, a Certified Gottman therapist.
- Receive supportive coaching from Mr. Thompson as you participate in experiential exercises.

- This course qualifies as a pre-requisite to Level 3 •

Faculty: Graham Thompson, LMFT, has been practicing as a marriage and family therapist since 1980. The majority of his career has been with not-for-profit agencies in Rock Island and Springfield. He is presently in private practice at Killian and Associates in Springfield. He is a Certified Gottman Therapist as well as a certified trainer of the Level 1 workshop.
